Trade screentime for wellness

Pre-revenue investment opportunity

Problems

Wellness Service Providers

- Customers not showing or canceling.
- High CAC. (AED 150–300)
- Low utilization (under 50%).
- Fragmented market, makes it hard for customers to discover a business.

Wellness Seekers

- 50% of millennials and genZ are doomscrolling 2.5 hours everyday to reduce stress.
- Doomscrolling is not designed to reduce stress. Wellness services are.
- Wellness market is fragmented and good providers are hard to discover.

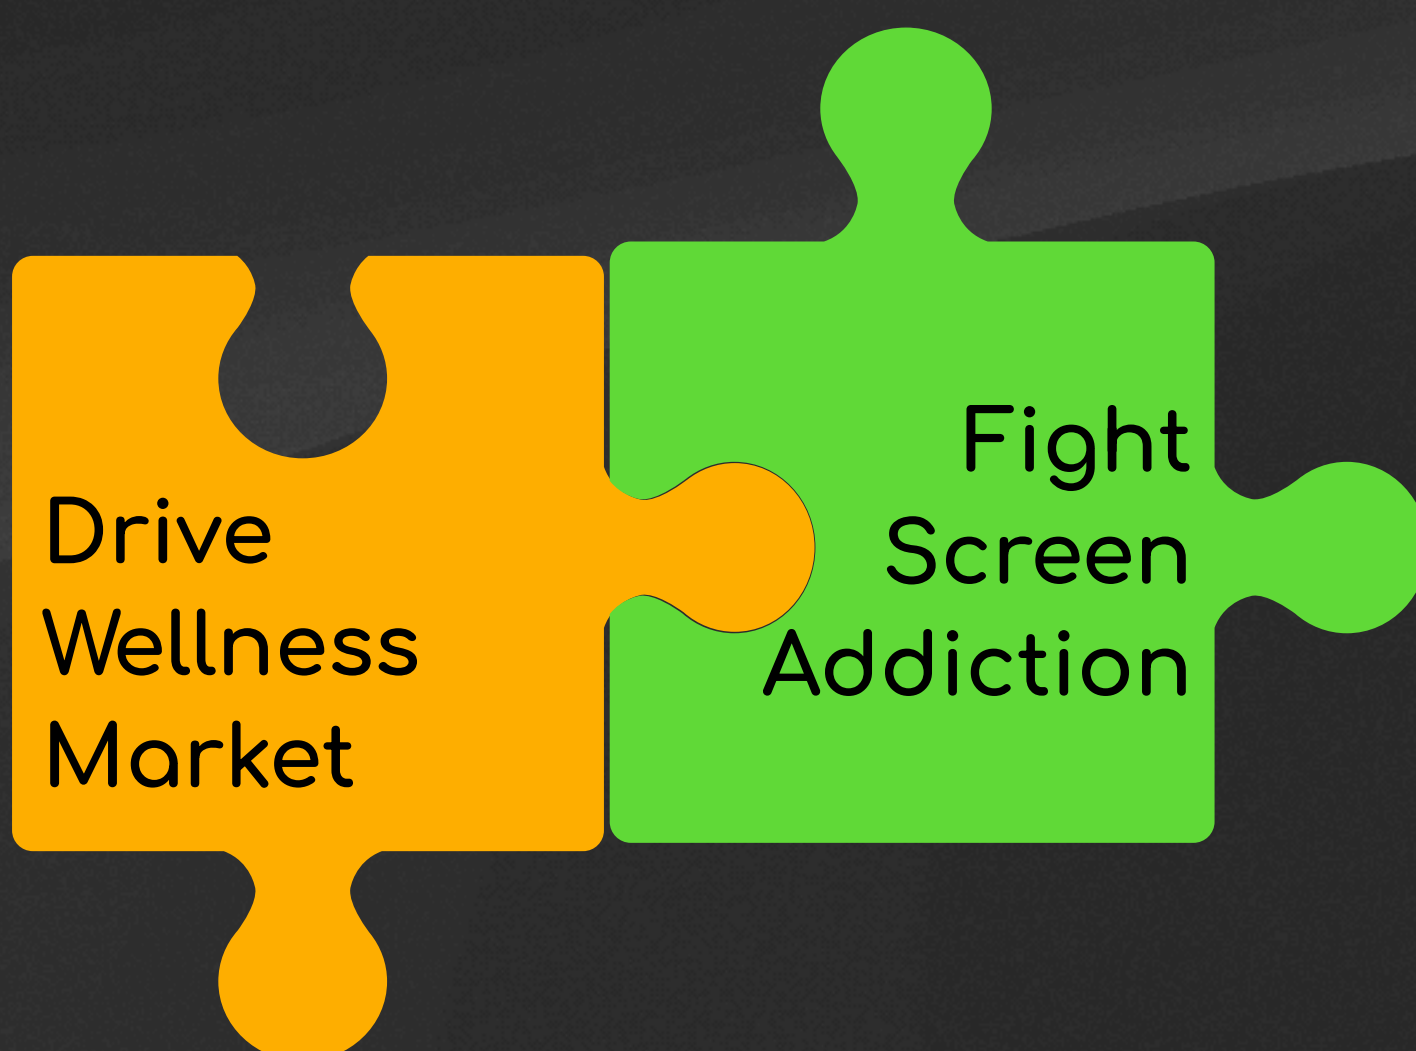

Solution

The Wellbing app:

A special marketplace, that gathers local SMEs in wellness, hobbies, and activities sectors.

The access key to this special marketplace is through less doomscrolling and better digital habits.

Users will spend less time on screens.

And the more they improve their digital habits, the better the offers they can unlock.

Users take care of their wellbeing through wellness services from our providers.

Why now

Regional Policies:

- UAE launched a 5 years National Wellbeing Strategy.
- Saudi Vision 2030 supports wellness tourism.

Increasing awareness:

- Everyone agrees: screens are addictive.
- But app blockers are not effective.
- Better digital habits are the solution.

Model already proven:

- Groupon and Cobone validated the business model is profitable.
- We're targeting a vertical slice of high-intent wellness services buyers. We are the first to tap this space.

Traction

Discovery:

- 50+ interviews with parents, youth, and SMEs validating the pain, the solution, and the willingness to pay.

Product:

- 2 pilots with closed MVP testing core app value. Pilots validated the screen time reduction mechanic.
- Marketplace is under construction.
- Partners saw potential for retention and CSR reputation.

Institutional:

- We draw Dubai Health attention.
- Together we explored the potential of our app, and the path to official endorsement.

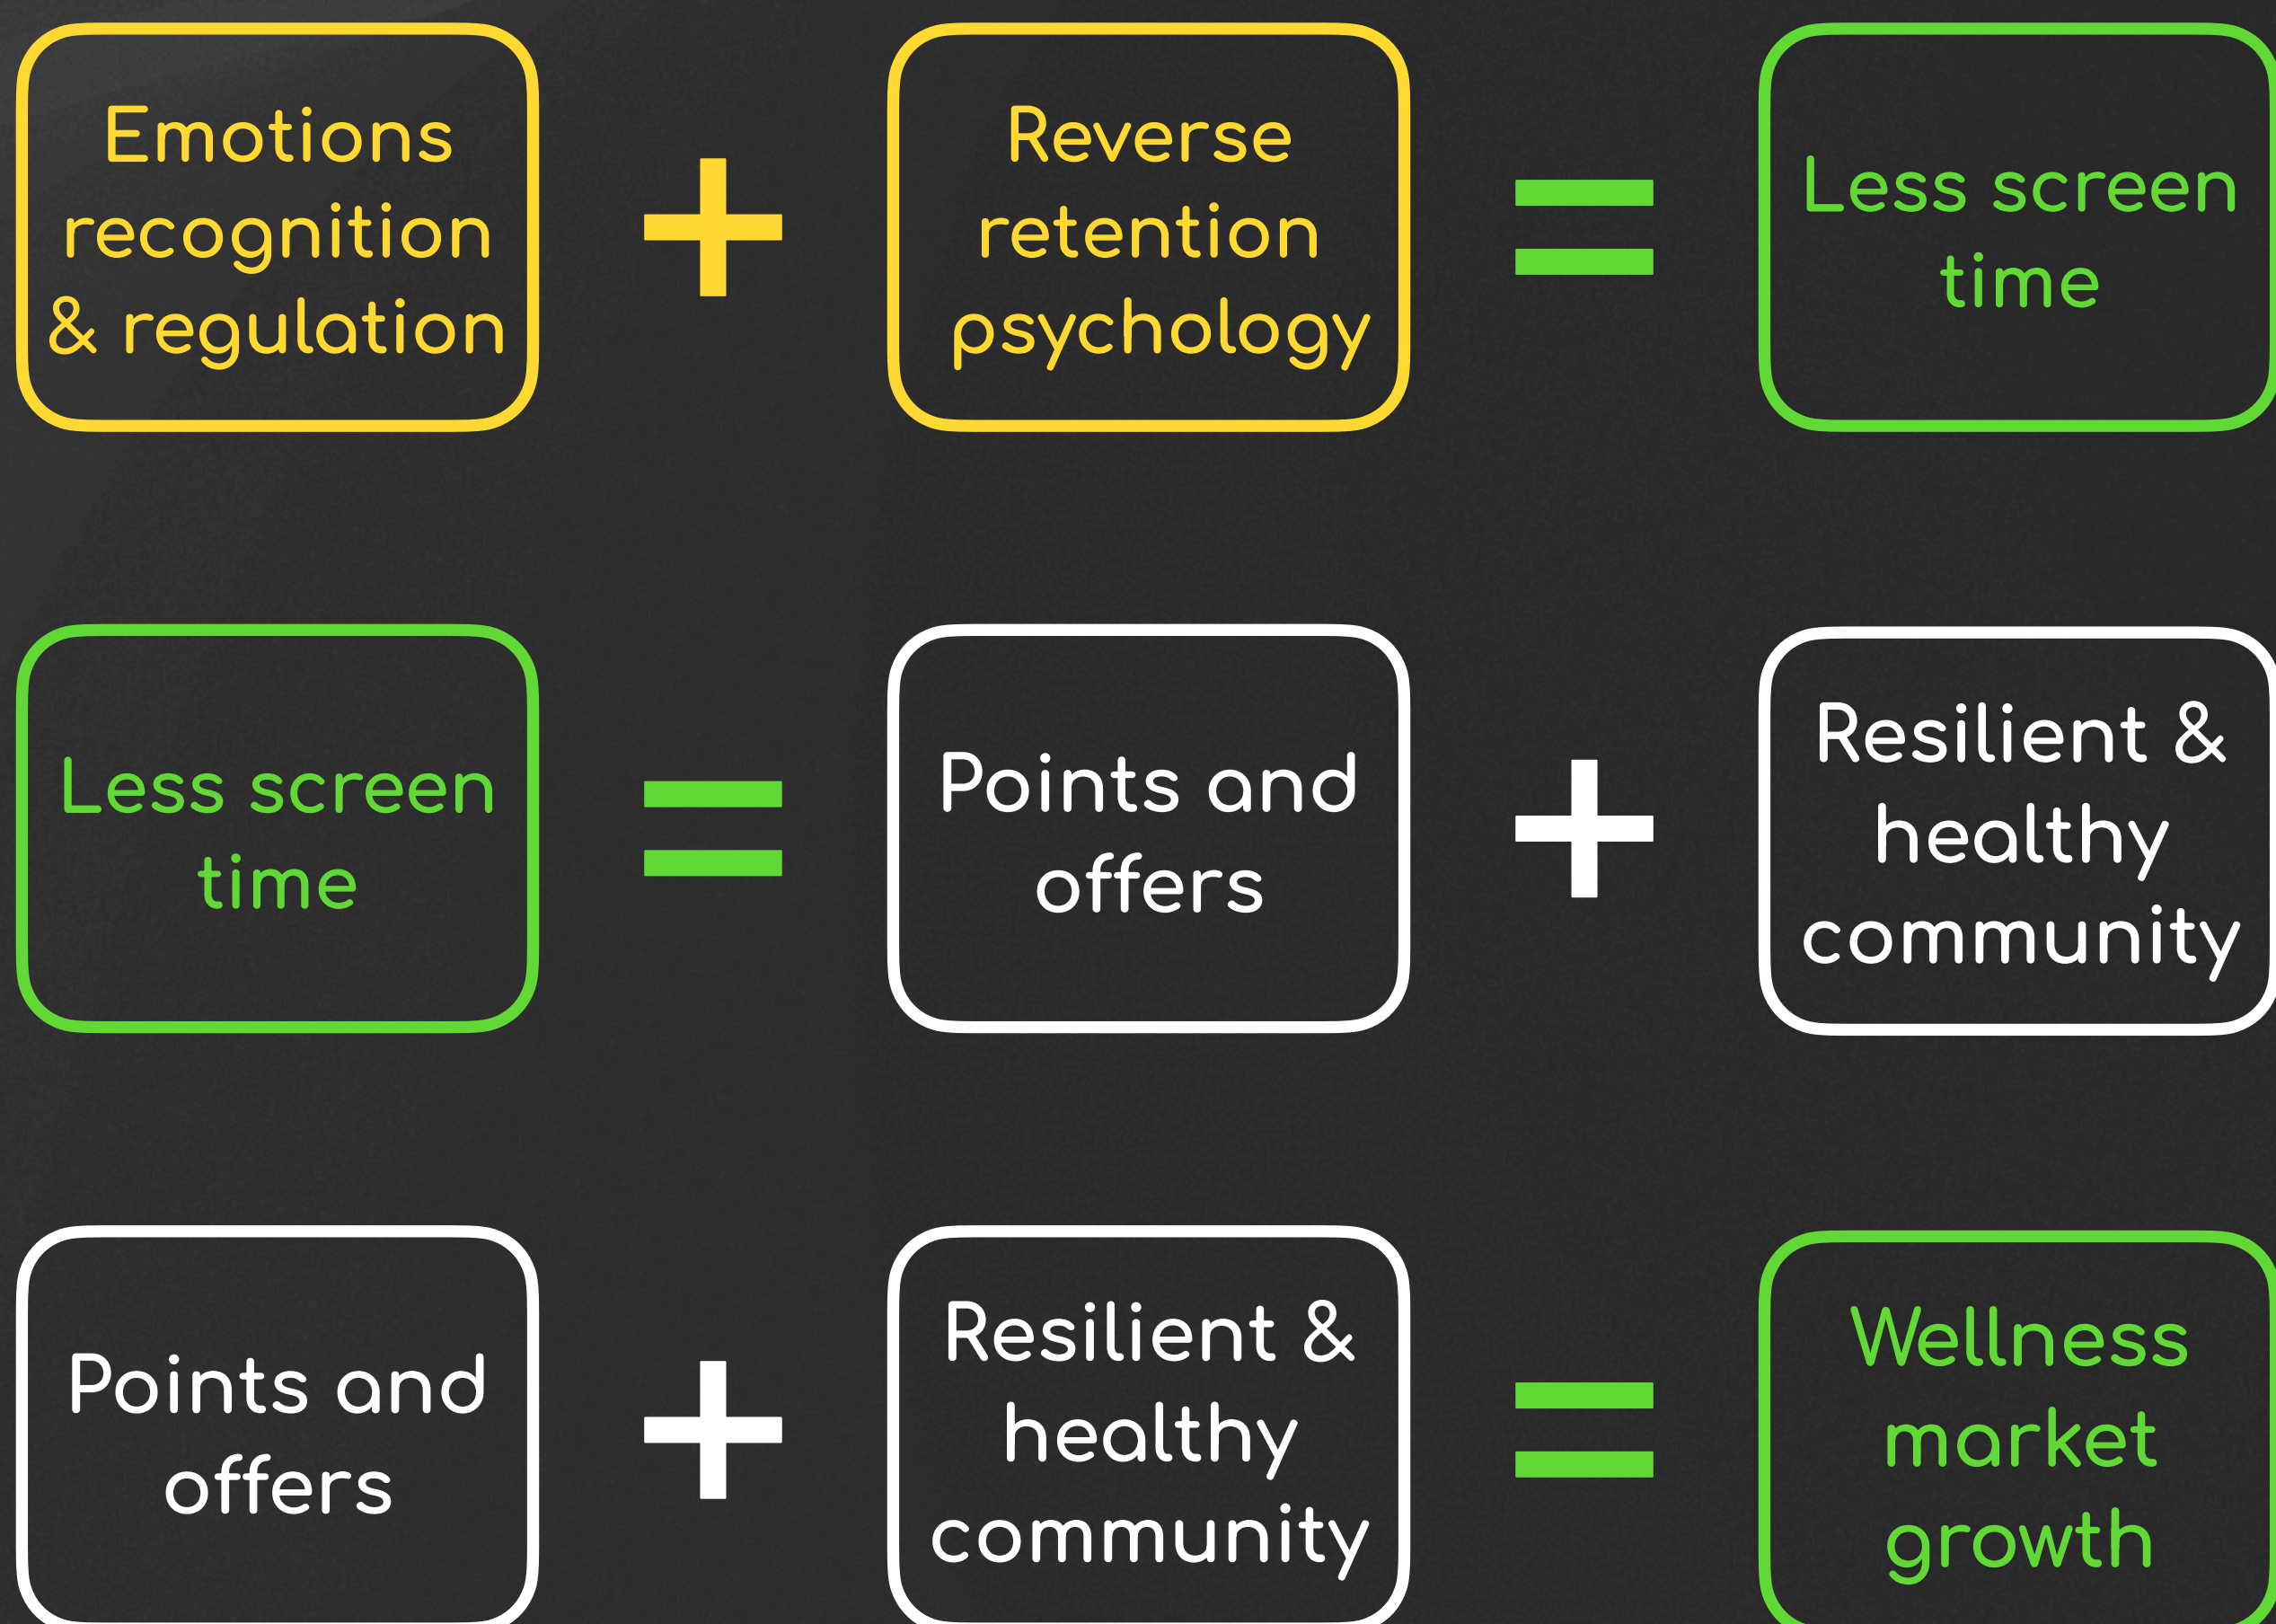

How it works

A study at Max Planck institute shows that users can limit screentime easier if they just pause to recognize how they feel.

We are mixing that with reverse retention techniques, like rewarding users when they reduce screen time.

This creates the perfect defense system against screen dependency and drives wellness economy.
